

Hotelinnovativ AG and ATT AG join forces

Bundling competencies, expertise and strengths leads to the emergence of fruitful partnerships. Since mid-2019, a partnership of this kind has existed between Hotelinnovativ AG and ATT - AudioText Telecom AG.

Hotelinnovativ AG is a leading provider of digital solutions for the entertainment and information of guests, visitors and patients. This is done via TV screens and tablets in guest rooms, on interactive touchscreen monitors or on static screens, all of which can be used wherever you want to spread your message.

ATT AG offers tailor-made solutions in the areas of alarms, protection of single workers and nurse call systems. The AMX alarm server from ATT AG reliably ensures that the right people can intervene on site at an early stage in an emergency to prevent any dangers. With AMX, information from different sources (e.g., the fire alarm system) are combined, processed centrally and reliably transmitted to the recipient via various communication channels such as SMS, telephone call, email and many others.

Both companies develop, advise, design, plan, implement and support their hospitality and health care solutions for their clients in Switzerland and abroad. In addition to innovative solutions, both companies see service and excellent support as top priorities.

Since they have the same DNA with regard to services, innovation and support, both companies are ideal partners whose solutions complement each other perfectly and who can therefore provide interesting comprehensive solutions in the entertainment and security sector.

Both companies are looking forward to a long-term and successful partnership.
